THE OLD HUMORISTS.

TRUTHFUL JAMES AND THE SOCIETY UPON THE STANISLAUS.

Science as a Disturber of the Peace—Some Sharp Financiering by Mr. Thompson of T.—The Baldheaded Man and the Small Boy in the Train.

I reside at Table Mountain, and my name is Truthful James. I am not up to small deceit or any sinful games. And I'll tell in simple language what I know about the row that broke up our society upon the Stanislaus. But first I would remark that 'tis not a proper plan for any scientific gent to whale his fellow men. And if a member don't agree with his peculiar whim. To lay for that same member for to 'put a head' on him.

Now, nothing could be finer or more beautiful to see Than the first six months' proceedings of that same society: Till Brown of Calaveras brought a lot of fossil bones That he found within a tunnel near the tenement of Jones.

Then Brown he read a paper, and he reconstructed there From those same bones an animal that was extremely rare.

AND HE SMILED A KIND OF SICKLY SMILE. And Jones then asked the chair for a suspension of the rules Till he could prove that those same bones was one of his lost mules.

Then Brown he smiled a bitter smile and said he was at fault. It seemed he had been trespassing on Jones' family vault. He was a most sarcastic man, this quiet Mr. Brown. And on several occasions he had cleaned out the town.

Now I held it is not decent for a scientific gent to say another is an ass—at least, to all intent—Nor should the individual who happens to be meant Reply by heaving rocks at him to any great extent.

Then Abner Dean of Angel's raised a point of order when A chunk of old red sandstone took him in the abdomen. And he smiled a kind of sickly smile and curled up on the floor. And the subsequent proceedings interested him no more.

For in less time than I write it every member did engage In a warfare with the remnants of a paleozoic age. And the way they heaved those fossils in their anger was a sin. Till the skull of an old mammoth caved the head of Thompson in.

And this is all I have to say of these improper games. For I live at Table Mountain and my name is Truthful James. And I've told in simple language what I know about the row That broke up our society upon the Stanislaus. —Bret Harte.

Sharp Financiering.

In the times of 1836 there dwelt in the pleasant town of T. a smooth, oily mannered gentleman who diversified a commonplace pursuit by some exciting episodes of finance, dealing occasionally in exchange, buying and selling uncurrent money, etc. We will suppose this gentleman's name to be Thompson. It happened that a Mr. Ripley of North Carolina was in T. Having some $1,200 in North Carolina money, and desiring to return to the Old North State with his funds, not wishing to encounter the risk of robbery through the Creek country, in which there were rumors of hostilities between the whites and the Indians, he bethought him of buying exchange on Raleigh as the safest mode of transmitting his money. On inquiry he was referred to Mr. Thompson as the only person dealing in exchange in that place. He called on Mr. T. and made known his wishes. With his characteristic politeness Mr. Thompson agreed to accommodate him with a slight bill on his correspondent in Raleigh, charging him the moderate premium of 5 per cent for it. Mr. Thompson retired into his counting room and in a few minutes returned with the bill and a letter, which he delivered to Mr. Ripley, at the same time receiving the money from that gentleman plus the exchange. As the interlocutors were exchanging complimentary compliments it occurred to Mr. Thompson that it would be a favor to him if Mr. Ripley would be so kind as to convey to Mr. T.'s correspondent a package he was desirous of sending, which request Mr. Ripley assented to. Mr. T. it would afford him great pleasure to comply with. Mr. Thompson then handed Mr. Ripley a package, strongly enveloped and sealed, addressed to the Raleigh banker, after which the gentlemen parted with many polite expressions of regard and civility.

Arriving without any accident or hindrance at Raleigh, Mr. Ripley's first care was to call on the banker and present his documents. He found him at his office, presented the bill and letter to him and requested payment of the former. That, said the banker, will depend a good deal upon the contents of
